

Did anyone mention this is stupid? I would not doubt it would fail any challenge on constitutional grounds. Second, nearly all programming is already on tape. Those few live shows are likely recorded by thousands if not millions of home viewers/listeners. How many copies do we need? Another burden on the people to satisfy some morbid Government scheme to censor media, but of course, only over the air broadcast media. Print, cable, satellite, all free to transmit and print whatever they like. When is TV going to not be treated as some second class first amendment free press portal to the world?
